

DIVORCE & FAMILY LAW

Our attorneys regularly counsel Lehigh Valley families on sophisticated family law and matrimonial law matters. Gross McGinley's family law practice provides you with the support and guidance you need to make informed choices and our experienced attorneys help you to understand all of your legal options.

Gross McGinley's matrimonial and family law attorneys provide the experience and sensitivity required to ensure the safety and security of your family.

Our attorneys provide legal support in all areas of matrimonial law, family law, and domestic relations including:

- Divorce litigation and mediation
- Spousal support/alimony
- Child custody and child support
- Child visitation rights
- Annulments and legal separation
- Prenuptial and postnuptial agreements
- Adoption and guardianship counsel
- Domestic partnership matters

Our Matrimonial and Family Law group provides mediation services as an alternative to litigation in family law matters. Our Certified Mediators act as neutral, third parties to aid families in discovering viable settlement solutions in a shorter time frame while avoiding the court's involvement.

We understand the complexity of family legal matters and the emotional toil they can present. Whether it be a divorce proceeding, child visitation schedule, or a guardianship matter, we handle each unique case with care. Our attorneys are responsive to your needs and, supported by our experienced estate planning and tax attorneys, provide clients with the resources necessary to develop long-term legal remedies.
