In addition to insurance coverage issues and disputes, our attorneys also defend major life, health, property, casualty, and other insurers in the investigation and defense of claims and lawsuits. Through the representation of insurance companies, self-insured private businesses, and governmental entities, our years of experience allow us to analyze issues, risks, and exposures for litigation.

Our attorneys have handled insurance defense cases throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey throughout state and federal courts. Supported by an experienced team of legal professionals, our attorneys are able to move clients through the trial process cost-effectively, while advocating for excellent results.
